

COMPETITIVE COMPANIES, INC. LETTER TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

Bid for Better Broadband

December 10, 2013

Dear CCI Shareholders,

I am excited to announce that CCI's wholly owned company, Capaciti Networks, Inc. is rolling out its city-wide commercial broadband services in Columbus, Ohio. The roll out involves a unique new marketing approach known as "Bid for Better Broadband."

This first-to-market approach not only allows business owners access to carrier-class wireless broadband, it gives them a new level of control in running their companies. "Bid for Better Broadband" allows business owners to choose their own plans and name their own prices.

For CCI, this segment of our overall business plan - which includes building Intelligent Communities wired for a broadband economy - will utilize our cutting-edge technology while developing a revenue stream that has a unique marketing appeal and gives us a competitive advantage.

"Bid for Better Broadband" is designed to create efficient, business- friendly bidding markets and stimulate substantial demand for the company's services. The initiative offers flexible service plans to suit a range of business broadband needs; the business model allows for the maintaining of an attractive profit margin while allowing minimum bids and specified capacity limits.

The "Bid for Better Broadband" initiative is rolling out in the following markets: Columbus, OH (also home to the Intelligent Community we began there a year ago), San Antonio, TX and Atlanta, GA.

Capaciti Networks' "Bid for Better Broadband" will be supported by a sales-driven website, www.capacitinetWORKS.com which will be re-launched within the first quarter of 2014.

We have announced the above "Bid for Better Broadband" program in a press release dated 12/3/2013 that was distributed through major newswires.

Please remember that you can stay up-to-date on company business via the website at www.cci-us.com

Sincerely,

William H. Gray
